ENGINEERING ON THE UP
The number of applications to engineering and technology courses rose by 7% between 2002 and 2007, this compares to just 0.08% for science and mathematics subjects as a whole. However in the last 5 years a public fear of climate change, energy prices, food prices, protection of personal information has emerged. Each one of these is a huge issue needing cost effective solutions that will require legions of creative engineers. Employment prospects look good.

45% of UK medal winners at the last 3 Olympics had been to independent schools.

S6 UCAS
 Lawyers/Medics must enter UKCAT/BMAT/LNAT Admission Tests on their UCAS Forms.

MVA Consultancy. The search is on to find the future leaders of the transport industry and MVA have launched an essay writing competition asking school-leaving students to discuss the development of future sustainable transport policy. The winning student will have their university fees paid in full for a transport-related undergraduate degree. Closing date for entries is October 31 2008, with the winner being announced on December 1 2008. A UK-wide competition was launched by Shadow Transport Secretary Theresa Villiers MP encouraging school-leavers to consider a career in the transport planning industry. The search is part of MVA's 40th anniversary celebrations and aims to help address the shortage of industry skills in transport planning and engineering.
